LIND HIGH SCHOOL

FORWARD

We, the Seniors, following the example of former classes, have named our annual Progress. This edition which we have prepared for your enjoyment is a record of the advancement we have made in our Senior year.

We have tried to picture our school life as it is, with some humor but with malice toward none. Of our time and effort we have gladly given and now begging your indulgence for all our shortcomings, we offer this the result of our best endeavor.

If in years to come, this edition of Progress brings back pleasant memories it will have accomplished its purpose.

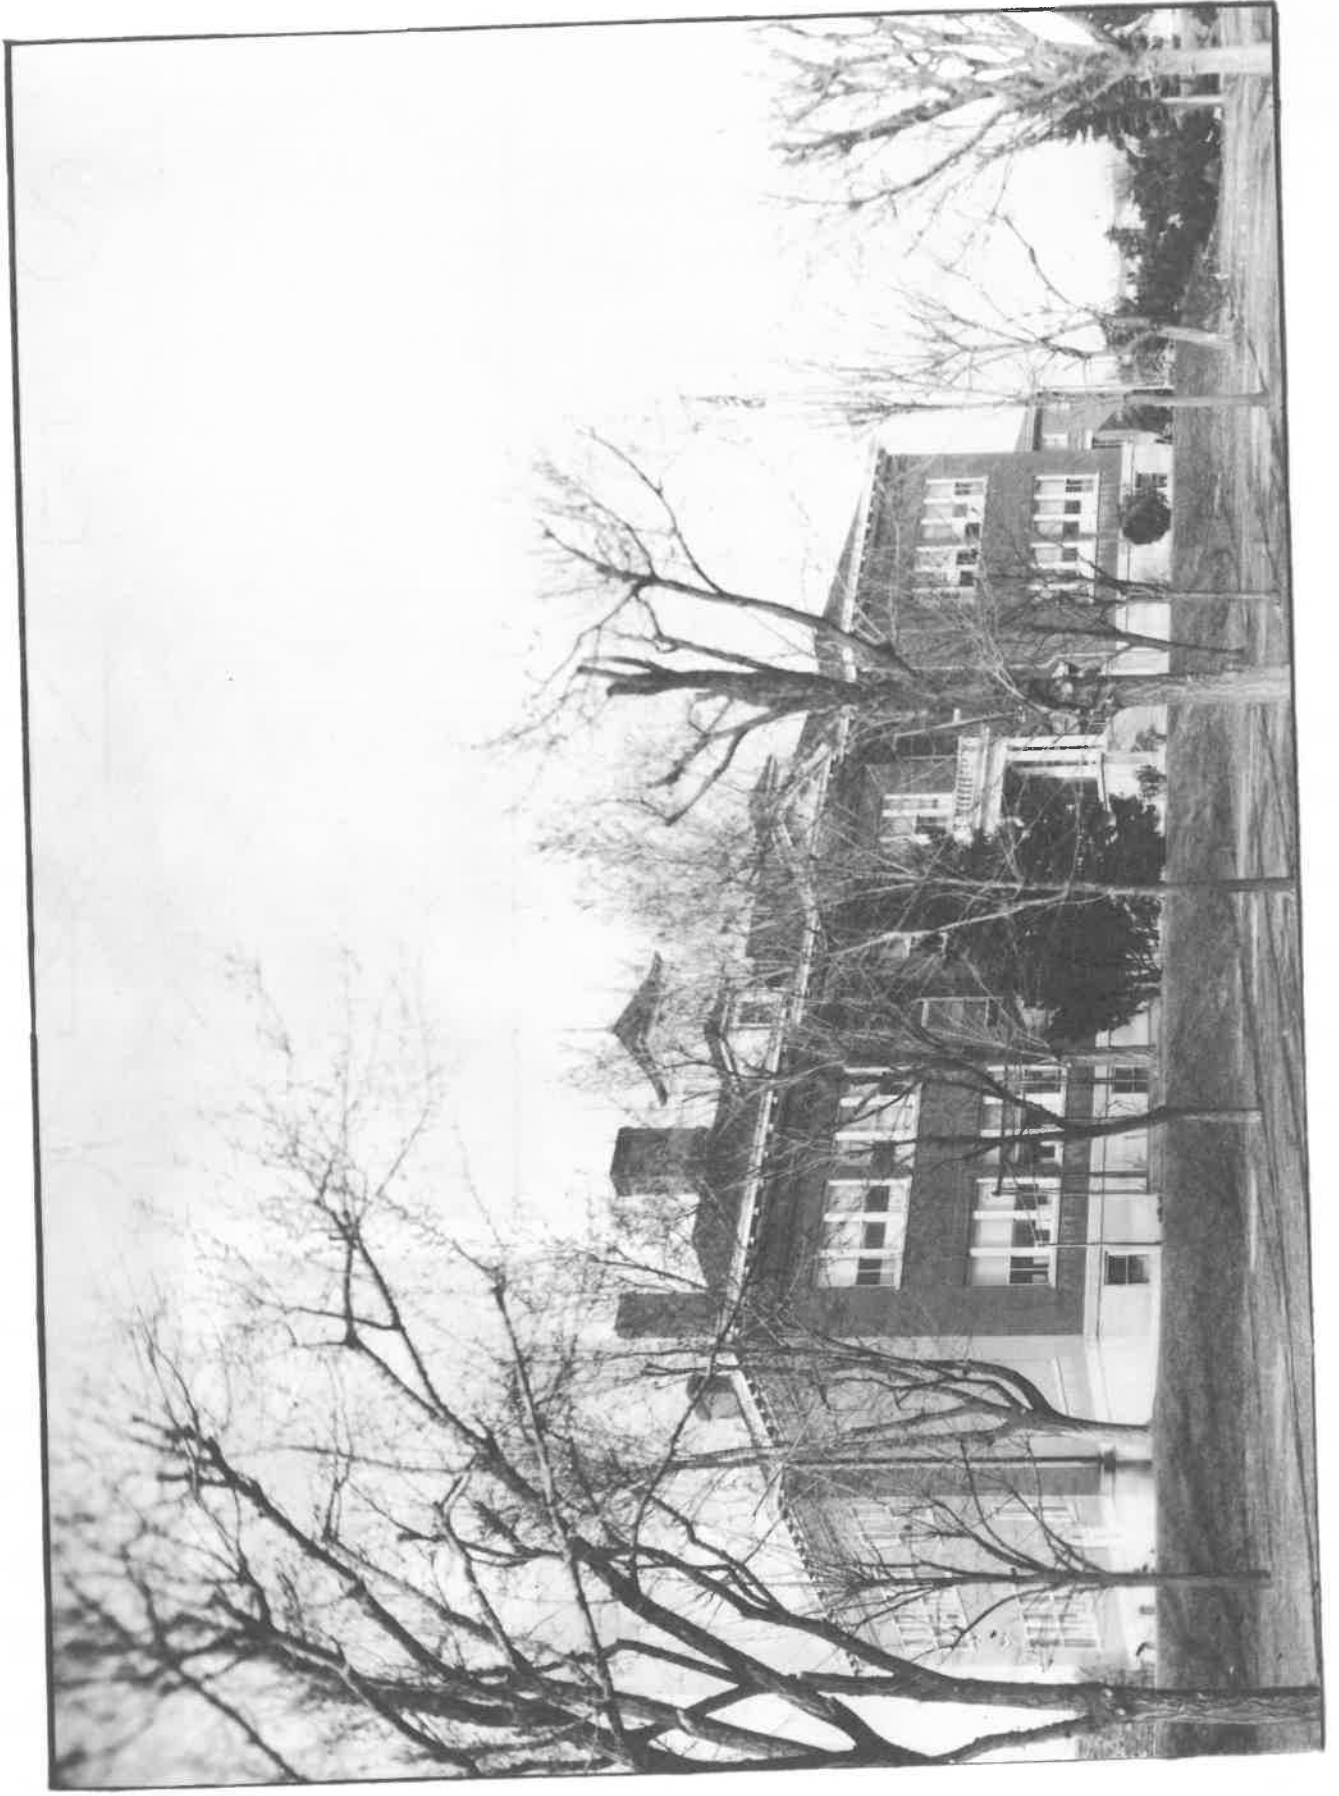

Elaine Lyle

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1948 proudly dedicate this eleventh edition of the Progress to our teachers who have so willingly helped and guided us through the past twelve years.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Senior Class gratefully acknowledge and thank Mr. Mason for taking the pictures which appear on the division pages and Miss Hille for her assistance in designing the cover. We also wish to thank Mrs. Ropte, our journalism teacher, who has made the production of this annual possible.

CLASS HISTORY

Twenty-four very green Freshmen, members of the class of 1948 started our high school career on Sept. 6, 1944. We found that our willing and able class advisor was Miss Larson. Class officers selected were: President: Lenard Wahl; Vice-President: Elaine Lyle; Secretary: Betty Angelo; Treasurer: Jerry Branson; Representatives: Jean Wahl and Melvin Gust. We chose red and white as our class colors, assorted carnations for our class flowers, and for our motto, "Push, Pull, or get out of the way." During the year we gained Arnold Beck, Henry Richardson, James Lowell, and Everett Oylear. We lost Rosemarie Schumaker, Elmer Sackman, Jack Keiper, and Henry Richardson.

One bright morning in September, 1945, twenty mighty Sophomore's marched into the little red school house and to our class room, where we found Mr. Ramsey, our class advisor, awaiting us. Lenard Wahl was again elected class president; Vice-President: Elaine Lyle; Secretary: Betty Angelo; Treasurer: Alice Copp; Sgt. at Arms: Melvin Gust; Representatives: Jerry Branson and Jean Wahl. During the year we were happy to gain Neil Reeve and Victor Pouley, but we were sorry to lose Peggy Ann Bauman and Arnold Beck.

We began our successful and busy Junior year with Mr. Evans as our extremely helpful class advisor. With our two new members, Doris Pederson and Bruce Reeve, we found that we had a total of 19. During the first semester Luella Schrader, Loren Poffenroth, Dick Johnson, and Everett Oylear left our class. Class officers were: President: Melvin Gust; Vice-President: Everett Oylear; Secretary: Betty Angelo; Treasurer: Jean Wahl; Sergeant-at-arms: Jerry Branson; Representatives: Elaine Lyle, Jerry Branson, Jim Deerheim.

This was a very active year for our class. Most of the members of the class were active in Athletics, P.E., Dramatics, Band, Chorus, and F.F.A.

Our Junior Prom was given on March 29th. The gym was transformed into a garden or a summernight with cherry trees, an arbor, lawn swing, and a big harvest moon. Everyone enjoyed dancing to the music of Duane Olsen's orchestra.

We honored the Seniors with the annual Junior-Senior Banquet on April 25. The Home Ec. room was decorated in the class colors of red and white, with tables, walls, and memory books decorated with stick figures. Melvin Gust was our able toastmaster for the occasion.

Yes! Our last year of high school at last! was quite a year and Mr. Kadlec was kept pretty busy being our class advisor. We found we had lost Bruce Reeve and regained Everett Oylear. To direct the work of our final year, we elected Lenard Wahl, President; Melvin Gust, Vice-President; Doris Pederson, Secretary; and Alice Copp, Treasurer. Representatives at Large were Betty Angelo and Elaine Lyle. Again we took part in many high school activities.

Bill Grafmiller's wonderful orchestra played for our Senior Ball on Nov. 1. The gym was decorated in red and white with "Peg O' My Heart" as the theme. Everyone had a good time.

The Senior Play, "Don't Keep Him Waiting " was presented on March 19. This hilarious comedy was a big success and was enjoyed by everyone.

A clever Class Day program was presented on Friday May 21. Baccalaureate Services were on the following Sunday. Finally on Wednesday, May 26, we received those diplomas, for which we had worked so long and hard, at Commencement, ending our high school career. Our days in L. H. S. have been happy and profitable and we hope that future classes will have as much fun as we have had.

CLASS WILL

I, Marilyn Baxter, will my extra weight to Barbara Haggerty. With this weight you will look better and so will I!!

I, Roberta Watkins, will one of my dimples to Beverly Jungblom. They always told me that if you were a real good girl, an angel kissed you and if you were bad, you had to sleep on a collar button. Here's a collar button, let's see how much luck you have.

I, Jerry Branson, will my spit curl to Walleen Ashcraft. It takes a lot of training to make it fall just in the right spot. I'll expect you to put it up every night with this special solution, H 20. If you follow these instructions, you will soon have a spit curl that will charm all of the boys.

I, Jim Deerheim, will my good fortune to be the only boy in typing II class to Alfred Tenneson. Here is a stick to help you fold the Hi-Lite paper. With a bunch of girls, a boy always gets the job nobody else wants.

I, Elaine Lyle, will my mother to Marianne Maier if you take after me and cut your hair once a week, you will need her.----On second thought, I need my mamma, so here is a package of razor blades. You will have to learn to cut it yourself.

I, Darlene Tompkins, will my ability to be absent at least twice a week to Ruben Fode. You've gotten a pretty bad start Ruben, but with this written permit, you'll do okay as you needn't worry making up time. But, remember this, you've got to make up your work.

I, Melvin Gust, will my Wavy hair to Bernard Klemmer. With the help of a home permanent set, I'm sure that after three applications, your hair will have at least one wave in it.

I, Doris Pederson, will my ability to be in the typing room at least four periods a day to Billie Pence. Here is a pillow for you to take with you each day as those chairs certainly get hard.

I, Jean Wahl, will my ability to keep the conversation going even when no one is talking but myself, to my sister, Phyllis. Here is a book on all the latest jokes. I always made up my own, but people didn't seem to think some of them were funny. If you run out of conversation, just sing. Maybe you better not.

I, Alice Copp, will my job as ~~bas~~soon player to Dickie Cline. Ronald Rapp used to carry the ~~bas~~soon for me but he is pretty worn out now so maybe you can use this little red wagon to lug it around.

I, Rex Lyle, will my height to Robert Heider. I hope this pair of stilts will boost you up where you can attract some attention.

I, Jack Williams, will my good luck to go through four years of Lind High School without having a wreck to Dale Abney. You may need it going to Lind High School.

I, Everett Oylear, will my ability of staying up late to Harry Hays and just in case you get drowsy the first few nights Harry, here's a box of no sleep pills that might help.

I, Lenard Wahl, will my ability to get by with only two solid subjects in my Senior year to Steve Hays. Here is a speech book and Ag. book. It got me through my Senior year see what you can do with it.

CLASS ADVICE

We the Senior Class of 1948 in parting leave the following sound advice for our fellow under classmen. We hope you will follow the advice and consider it highly valueable, because we have spent many earnest hours of labor just for your benefit.

Kathleen Williams--Keep your belief in "Treat 'em rough and make 'em love ya." Thats what a lot of these guys need.

Dale Abney--Shop around more when you buy shoes they do make more than cowboy boots--honest.

Patricia Cline--Keep that wicked grin under control. We have enough mischief in the world as is.

Richard Fode--Make a little noise and let people know you are around--you might get run over and no one would know it.

Pat Haase--Drive slower--you'll live a lot longer so will others.

Phyllis Wahl--Start practicing to watch the clock--Jeannewon't be here next year to tell you it is time to come home.

Robert Heider--Eat all the carrots and spinach you can and even if you don't grow, Keep your hands growing and you may be a basket-ball star.

Marcial Gust--Remember the old saying "Life is just a bowl of cherries" and keep that happy attitude.

Ken Moon--Stay off of that road down the coulee--some day that "ford" may not make it back out.

Terry Reed--Keep practicing and you still might get Frankenstein's job. They say Hollywood takes just about anyone nowadays.

Betty Pouley--Keep up your good work in sewing and cooking--It helps in the future.

Marjory Schoenrock--Give Pat a chance, he's not a bad kid.

Ray Stelzer--Stop playing so much "snooker" there are better things to spend your money for.

Billie Pence--Keep striving and some day you may get your cash to prove--with the exception of $1000 you forgot about.

Ruben Fode--Keep up the good work with your studies--someday you may be valedictorian.

Beverly Jungblom--Giggle more--not that you giggle too much now or anything like that.

"Lefty" Keiper--Keep going in for tennis and Jack Krammer will be sorry.

Dorothy Albershardt--Keep that friendly smile, it will certainly gain a lot of friends for you.

Orville Woodruff--What you still have your car--well keep up the good driving and remember the corners are square and not round.

Bernard Klemmer--Use that cute little grin and some of those jokes to charm the girls instead of just the boys--the girls won't bite you.

Derla Mae Kanzler--Cheer up--life surely doesn't treat you that bad.

Lee Williams--Don't follow the footsteps of your brother. If you do you'll be sorry.

Irene Fode--Keep your friendly disposition, and if you use it with skill you may be the most popular girl in high school.

Boyd Phillips--Start a dancing class--let someone else in on those fancy steps.

Rita Plager--Make up your mind between Ritzville and Lind or you might be in the center of some excitement.

Mary Jane Curry--Keep getting those A's---by the time you are a senior you'll need them.

Don Hardy--Keep up the good work in basketball--you know practice makes perfect.

Marianne Maier--Keep on trying and someday you may make the world's finest dumplings.

Russell McLaughlin--Get a silencer for your laugh--we want our old building to last until we get a new one.

Beverly Compton--Spend more time with studies and curricular activities you still have three years of high school.

Gloria Hays--Buy yourself a car--then you can go anywhere whenever you please.

Charles Parish--Keep up the accurate shooting with that bee-bee gun--some day you may be an expert sharpshooter--with a cork gun.

Barbara Haggerty--Don't let those dream men of yours go to your head.

Lorene Longmeier--Don't call Tubb Longmeier's children brats---someday you may have some of your own.

Leighton Gehres--Learn how to raise pigs--they are suppose to live longer than a couple of months you know.

Roy Gallion--Keep trying in basketball--you still have two more years to make the first string.

Geraldine Rinker and Donna Klemmer--Don't giggle so much--we know laughing is good for you but surely not that much.

Steve Hays--Take it easy on accessories for your car--It can only hold so many.

Ronnie Boures--Eat a lot of spinach so that you will weigh that 160 lbs. required to carry a football.

Archie Huber--Cultivate your voice--then someday you will really be able to call those square dances.

Jack Baxter--Keep up your good work with the saxophone and someday you may be another Tex Benekey.

Lynn Reeve--Keep on studing Chemistry--who knows you may become a great----explorer.

Jerry Cozine--Don't be so hard on your opponents in tennis. Its only in fun----not a matter of life and death.

Loren Lining--Take stretching exercises--you know one guy grew 1" as a result of stretching exercises.

Jervis Kester--Massage your tonsils daily maybe that will bring your voice up out of the cellar.

Barbara Kelly--Hang on to the man you now have. We think he's a pretty good guy.

Loren Rushmeier--Don't be so bashful--give us your opinion of things.

Helen Orman--Keep at it and someday you'll be able to really sling that stuff together at the Cozy.

Irene Erdman--Don't always follow the ways of other people--they may lead you the wrong way.

Al Tenneson--Keep up your fine work at Beck's--after all being a delivery boy isn't a bad career.

Darlene Keough--Don't let other people run over you just because you are small.

Wilford Pacque--Don't cut your hair so short----. Someday you may wake up without any.

Georgia Hicks--Stop running competition with the towns best gossipers.

Floyd Schrader--Pay more attention to those Freshman girls---personality like yours shouldn't be wasted.

Walleen Ashcraft--Don't take your self too seriously there are other people around you.

Margie Scheeler--Keep practicing your baton--someday you may be able to hit the moon with it.

Yvonne Reeve--Keep up your good work in art and some day you may really become famous.

Lucille Franz--Hand your work in late once--It always proves to be exciting.

Darlene Weston--Don't be so quiet, with your pretty smile and nice hair you could get along wonderfully.

Bob McKinley--Keep blowing your cornet and someday you will be a second Harry James.

Geraldine Wigen--Keep up the secretarial work and you will receive just reward.

Juniors--Learn to co-operate with each other because your Senior activities are based on co-operation.

Sophomores--Don't let the Seniors get the upper hand. You will be upper classmen too.

Freshmen--Settle down and act grown up. You have had your year of fun.

Next year Freshman--Stay away from the flag fight if you can't take what's dished out without going home and complaining. We are warning you its bound to be rough.

PROPHECY

Setting: Gypsy looking into crystal ball.

Today, twenty years have passed since I myself was one of those mighty Seniors. I know what happened to me but I must gaze into my crystal ball and try to locate my dear classmates.

Ah, I see a huge farmhouse. I knew that one of my beloved classmates would be a farmer. It seems Jack Williams is now one of the richest wheat farmers in Washington. He is also the most eligible bachelor. I see all the young chicks running after him. Not the kind you usually find on a farm either.

And now the scene changes. I see another farm house. I also had a feeling one of the Senior girls would become a farmers wife. I see Marilyn Baxter doing dishes and trying to keep little Junior quiet all at the same time. He had to do quite a lot of persuading but she finally decided being a farmer's wife was just what she wanted to be.

Once again I will look into my crystal ball. I see a large beauty salon, and the proprietor is, oh! no! but it is! Melvin Gust. It seems he spent so much time making his waves lie just right that he made it his life-work. His shop is called "Mel's Beauty Slop", or is it shop. You should see his latest discovery, Lipstick that stays on forever, but there seems to have been some mistake.

Ah, see this. Why its Alice Copp. She's talking over the telephone. "No I'm sorry but I have a date, tonight. Tomorrow night? No, I have a date then too. Her date book seems to be filled until 1980. It seems she's still trying to decide whether to continue teaching at Vassar or get married. Up to date she's had 13 proposals.

Now I see a quaint little farm-house. Darlene Tompkins is standing at the door calling her children to dinner. "Come on you little cherubs get in here and eat your dinner." Darlene married Paul the day after graduation. Her little ones all 20 of them have cute little dimples just like Darlene and Paul's.

A college professor I see now. It seems Rex Lyle really went places. I hear on the side he is the new President of W.S.C. He's made some new rules. Must have an A-average before you can enter. Must have at least 6 years of high school. (Easiest way to do this is flunk a few courses) and last but not least, only girls or should I say women can enter. By the way, Rex is still a bachelor waiting for the right woman. This may have something to do with the women only rule.

Now I must gaze once again in my crystal ball. I see Doris Pederson has just finished supper and is waiting for her man to come in from the field. She seems to be quite worried. "Wish he hadn't gone out to work. That's such a hard job and dangerous, he might cut his foot off." It seems Vernon is out hoeing weeds.

I must go on and see what the rest of my sweet classmates are doing. Aw, I see a student in Kinman Business School. He seems to be quite interested in his surroundings. He comes to school every day, immaculately dressed. He even asked the other day if he couldn't go to school on Sunday. It's Jim Deerheim and once again he is the only boy in an all girl typing class.

What's this! The scene changes to the swankiest night spot in Hollywood. Roberta Watkins, has become a great opera singer. Her name is now pronounced Robeartoe Watkinski. Just listen to that voice.

I see a very small school building. It seems Paha has become active once again. Hmmmam the teacher is very good looking. It is Elaine Lyle. She's teaching a very large class (one person.) The subject is Chemistry. She is defining a kiss. "A kiss is the anatomical juxtaposition of two orbicular muscles in a state of contraction."

Ah, I see a huge school building. They say 2000 high school students are enrolled there. Why its good old Lind High. They just finished the building yesterday. I see the coach strutting through the halls. It's none other than Everett Oylear. It seems he's very strict with his boys. He's giving them a pep talk at the moment. "Last of all remember, boys, guard them so close you can see the white of their eyes. Hang on to the ball as if there was butter on your fingers. Everett has been coaching for 15 years now and his team has made one whole basket.

A trailer seems to be bumping across my crystal ball. It's occupants? Betty and Bill of course. They are still looking for a little white house with a white picket fence. At present they are headed for Florida. It seems a house there has just become vacant.

Aw! Now I see Jerry Branson. It seems he owns one of the biggest cattle ranchers in Washington. He also has a dude ranch. Every summer all the pretty girls from the city go out to the dude ranch. The main attraction seems to be ----- No, not Jerry but horseback riding. At this very minute Jerry is teaching a pretty miss the art of riding a horse. She seems to be one of his daughters.

And last there is myself. Well, here I am. "You made me what I am today, I hope your satisfied.

Narrator--Jean Wahl

SENIOR BALL

"Peg O' My Heart" was the theme of the Senior Ball held November 1, 1947 in the high school gym. A large red heart was built around the stage with "Peg O' My Heart" written in big letters across the top. The ceiling was red and white. Pinned on each side were red and white hearts with couples names written on them. On each side in the back was a silhouette.

Above the noise of the large crowd; the beautiful music of Bill Grafmiller's orchestra was heard and enjoyed by all.

Jean Wahl

CLASS MEMORIAL

The Senior Class presented an Eastman Sixteen millimeter moving picture camera to add to the memorials given by graduating classes of the Lind High School. The film strips, after being developed, can be shown on the present school projector.

The camera, which will be used mostly for school activities, arrived in time to be used at our commencement exercises.

We are proud to present this gift to the school as a token of appreciation and hope it will always be used wisely and carefully in remembrance of the class of nineteen hundred and forty eight.

SENIOR PLAY

"Don't Keep Him Waiting" by Anne Coulter Martens was the play presented by the Senior Class of 1948. Roberta Watkins played the leading role, Betty Ramble, who was the practical and efficient sister who kept David Vance waiting for her. David played by Jerry Branson, wanted Betty to marry him and go to Argentina, but Betty believing her family needed her, refused. Finally, after many conflicts, she went with him.

Jeff Ramble, portrayed by Melvin Gust, was always looking for something he could get easily. Jeff's "Pal" and constant helper Jinny, was played by Elaine Lyle and through her clever scheming she got the love affairs of everyone else settled but let her own love come as it may.

Toodles, the little fat girl on a diet, was played by Jean Wahl. Her aim was to get thin so Chester, played by Lenard Wahl, would notice her more. Chester was the delicate and lazy type who was allergic to everything that had anything to do with work.

Owen Ramble, the father and the man who was always "short of change" was played by Jimmy Deerheim. Selina Ramble, the aunt who was a stargazer and told everyone's horoscope, was portrayed by Alice Copp. Selina like Owen never had money in her purse, and charged everything to Betty's account.

Sally Lou, the fascinating blonde who was after all the men she saw, was played by Doris Pederson. Her aim was to find the man with the most money. When Mr. Amos Atkins, played by Jack Williams, came along with antiques amounting to a "cool half million" Sally Lou lost no time in capturing him. Minerva Blaine, was played by Marcial Gust and with her cute giggle and fluttering eye lashes soon won Chester.

O'Toole the taxi driver, who insisted he be paid his money, was played by Rex Lyle. O'Toole wanted his money so bad he even threatened to carry off the furniture. Everett Oylear took the part of the radio announcer.

The play was very exciting and the audience seemed to enjoy it very much.

SNEAK

On the morning of May 18 at the bright and early hour of 3:00 a.m. the eager seniors piled into the bus, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kadlec, and started merrily on their sneak.

They took the familiar route to Spokane where they indulged in a hearty breakfast. Then off they went headed for Couer d' Alene where a speedy cabin cruiser waited to take them on a six hour cruise up the length of the lake, into St. Joe River and back into Lake Chatcolet.

At noon they stopped at Rocky Point and devoured a luscious picnic lunch. The girls had brought along fried chicken, potato salad and all of the trimmings.

After a few more hours of cruising on the Lake the seniors piled out of the cruiser and ate supper at the Couer d' Alene Lake Lodge.

Still fresh as a daisy they journeyed back to Spokane and "painted the town red" as the saying goes.

When they were quite sure there was just enough time to get back to Lind before the twenty four hours were up, they left Spokane and headed for home.

Finally they arrived home once more. Were they tired? Oh no! All they needed was to be in the direction of home and given a shove.

JUNIOR RESUME'

On th thirdday of September, 1947, sixteenbright, intèlligent looking Juniors regretfully tramped into their new home room, 303 and again began counting the days till summer vacation.

Junior Class officers were as follows:

President-----Alfred Tenneson
Vice President-----Boyd Phillips
Secretary-----Barbara Kelly
Treasurer-----Donald Hardy

President-----Leighton Gehres
Vice President-----Steve Hays
Secretary-----Billie Pence
Treasurer-----Donald Hardy

Class Advisor-----Mr. Evans
Class Colors-----Blue and White
Class Motto-----Don't Try Dying,
But Die Trying
Class Flower-----Carnation

During the year we gained a member and also lost one. Barbara Kelly from Davenport Wash. joined the class. Clifford Dirks who had been with us since the first grade, moved to Spangle, Wash.

The Juniors were very active during the year with members participating in chorus, dramatics and band. April and May were busy months with a very successful Junior Prom on April 3rd and the Junior-Senior Banquet in May.

Steve Hays

JUNIOR PROM

The traditional Junior Prom was held April 3, 1948. Everyone enjoyed the music of Fev Pratt and his Orchestra from Pullman.

The gym was beautifully decorated with a background of blue and white streamers. The ceiling was decorated as a dome with the side walls designating our theme of April Showers.

A good time was enjoyed by all.

JR-SR. BANQUET

On the evening of Thursday, May sixth, 1948, the annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held in the High School Home Economics room. A blue and white crepe paper ceiling provided a lovely background for the dinner.

Mothers of Junior Class members prepared the meal which was served by six Sophomores; Beverly Jungblom, Marianne Maier, Phyllis Wahl, Terry Reed, Dale Abney, and Ruben Fode.

Toastmaster, Leighton Gehres, opened the program with a speech followed by a response by Lenard Wahl. Other speeches were given by Mr. Hardy and Mr. Evans.

Musical numbers and readings were also provided by some of the Juniors.

SOPHOMORE RESUME

A certain Wednesday morning in September, 19 ambitious, wide awake, and up and coming Sophomores entered their second year of high school with Mr. Wilson as class advisor.

On October 17, we gave a very successful high school party which was enjoyed by all.

During the year we were happy to gain Mildred Elliot, Bob McKinley, and Geraldine Wigen although we were sorry to lose Mildred and Lois Rinker later.

The boys participated in athletics, shop, and agriculture while the girls took part in P.E. and Home Economics,

The class officers for the school term were as follows:

President-----	Ruben Fode
Vice-President-----	Terry Reed
Secretary-----	Margie Scheeler
Treasurer-----	Rita Plager
Sergeant at Arms-----	Helen Orman

JOURNALISM

The Journalism class of 1947-1948 consisted of seven Senior girls including Betty Angelo, Elaine Lyle, Darlene Tompkins, Doris Pederson, Roberta Watkins, Jean Wahl, and Marilyn Baxter. The girls, with the help of their adviser Mrs. Carol Ropte, published nine editions of the Hi-Lite, and the Senior annual.

Each girl took her turn as Editor, Humor Editor, Sports Editor, and Exchange Editor.

Work began on the annual the second semester with the Seniors choosing Betty Angelo, Editor and Elaine Lyle, Assistant Editor. Betty withdrew from school in February and Elaine then became Editor with Jean Wahl chosen as Assistant Editor. Mary Alice Copp did all the lettering on the senior activities and the snappages. The Journalism class and the High School worked with them and the annual was finished in time for delivery before school was out.

F.F.A.

The Golden Grain Chapter of Lind started its 1947-1948 year with twelve members. This was six less than the membership of last year. Five new members were initiated into our chapter on October 17. They were Lenard Wahl, Everett Oylear, Orval Woodruff, Lee Williams, and Jackie Baxter.

Several awards were given at the beginning of the school year that were won by active members on their last year's projects and work. The Leadership Award, which is awarded on a point system, was earned by Melvin Gust. Ruben Fode was awarded an F.F.A. ring for having the highest scholastic average. It is awarded to the F.F.A. member who has the highest average in all high school subjects for one year. Pat Haase was awarded an F.F.A. emblem for having the most outstanding project in the F.F.A. This award is based on the amount of work put in on a project.

Our chapter received two Chester White gilts from Asil Gaines of Dayton Wash. We also received thirteen gilts and two boars from Neil Tourtellotte of Junalu Farms. These gilts and boars are being used in a revolving swine project.

On Nov. 25th, at our regular meeting, ten boys were initiated Chapter Farmers. They were Jack Williams, Pat Haase, Jerry Branson, Melvin Gust, Raymond Stelzer, Boyd Phillips, Ruben Fode, Richard Fode, Bernard Klemmer, and Rex Lyle.

Mr. Evans, Mr. Williams and four F.F.A. members went to Portland to attend the Pacific International Livestock Expedition judging contest. The team which consisted of Melvin Gust, Jerry Branson, Rex Lyle, with Jack Williams as an alternate took third place in judging Poland China Swine. Melvin Gust was second highest individual judge in the entire contest.

Our Chapter has made large profits this year from the carnival, pop sale, Christmas card sale, turkey raffle, shop project auctions, and garden tractor, which we received January 7.

The annual F.F.A. Father-Son Banquet was held February 3rd at 6:30 p.m. Jerry Branson served as Toastmaster for the evening and Reverend Schmidt gave the invocation. After the meal was over a welcome address was given by Boyd Phillips and the Seniors were introduced by Mr. Evans. Mr. Leslie Branson gave a report on the Chicago International Livestock show. The Chapter accomplishments were reviewed by Rex Lyle followed by a clarinet solo by Lee Williams. Mr. T.N. Hardy gave the last address entitled "F.F.A. in School." The program ended with the closing ceremony.

On March 9th at our regular meeting Ruben Fode was elected as delegate for the State Convention at Pullman with Melvin Gust as alternate.

Several of the Lind F.F.A. boys took their steers and hogs to the Spokane Livestock Show this spring. Most of the boys received high grades on their stock.

The Chapter feels that the accomplishments they made this year will make high goals for the future F.F.A. members to attain.

ALL HI-PLAY

"Best Foot Forward," a three-act comedy by John Cecil Holm, was presented on the evening of Nov. 21, 1947, under the direction of Miss Gertrude Krehbiel. The play had a larger cast than usual and all the parts provided good opportunities for characterization. Besides being well-liked by the audience, the play was a success financially.

The plot revolves around Bud Hooper, a student at Winsockie prep, and his rommates Dutch and Hunk. Bud invites a glamorous movie star, Gale Joy, to the Senior Prom. Because she needs the publicity, she accepts, so Bud writes his girl Helen that he will be sick until after the Prom. However, because of the stern Principal, Dr. Reeber, Bud tries to talk Gale into going as Helen. Gale and her hard-boiled manager Jack don't like this at all. Then Helen shows up and Bud is really in trouble. At the dance, Gale monopolizes all the boys, so Minerva, and Ethel, who came with Dutch and Hunk, Helen and the Blind Date decide to do something about it. They mob Gale and tear up her dress for souvenirs. There is a near-riot, and when Dr. Reeber discovers that Bud has brought an actress, he promptly expels Bud. Things look pretty black, but then Chester Billings, a reporter, takes a framed-up picture of Reeber and Gale that makes Reeber change his mind. Bud is forgiven and makes up with Helen, Gale is voted Senior Prom Queen and gets the needed publicity, and everything ends happily.

The cast was as follows:

Bud Hooper-----	Boyd Phillips
Dutch Miller-----	Steve Hays
Hunk Hoyt-----	Melvin Gust
Gale Joy-----	Roberta Watkins
Helen Schlessinger-----	Betty Angelo
Satchel Moyer-----	Terry Reed
Chuck Green-----	Loren Liming

FOOTBALL

The 1947 football season proved to be a success. Due to the excellent coaching of Mr. Ralph Brown and Mr. Robert Wilson the boys came to within one game of the championship.

The team had full support from both the school and the townspeople at all games.

"L" CLUB

Twenty one lettermen of Lind High School met on November 21, 1947 in the Junior room to make plans for the building of a lettermen's club. Officers elected were Lenard Wahl, president; Jim Deerheim, vice president; Pat Haase, secretary; and Raymond Stelzer, sergeant at arms. The name selected was The Orange "L" Club of Lind High School. Several rules were made and the number of sleeve stripes limited. It was decided a boy cannot uncover a stripe for his freshman year and he must win three letters in one sport to win three stripes.

As we are a new club, we haven't started functioning fully as yet. We have accomplished two things thus far, however. (1) We got together and purchased Coach Brown a gold pen-pencil set to show our appreciation for his excellent coaching in football. (2) We have held several meetings and have mapped our plans for the future.

GIRLS PE

The Girls Physical Education classes were enjoyed by all the girls due to the wonderful cooperation between the girls and the instructor—Miss Crenshaw.

This year the girls participated in many sports including archery, hiking, volley ball, baseball, tennis, swimming and basketball.

Every girl in high school attended a basketball play day in January at Sprague. The day was well planned with basketball competition, folk dancing and a fine dinner. Everyone had a good time. A second play day was held at Odessa in May. A large number of girls attended and had a good time.

Sweaters were awarded to all Senior girls who had earned 1600 points in athletic activities. Elaine Lyle and Mary Alice Copp received their sweaters in September. Roberta Watkins, Jeanne Wahl and Marilyn Baxter had theirs in February and Darlene Tompkins had earned sufficient points for a sweater in May.

BAND

During the school year the Senior Band played for five football games, nine basketball games, and four home baseball games. We also played for ten pep rallies.

On October 27th the members went to listen to the United States Marine Band at Spokane. In November the band played between acts of the All-High play.

January 29th the Ritzville and Washtucna school bands came to Lind for the Adams County Band Clinic. After practicing all day the massed bands gave a concert at eight o'clock that night. Mr. Hallgrimson from Cheney, was guest director for this affair. Mr. Stewart Smith and Mr. Morgan Morgan assisted him.

We received our new uniforms March 2nd and wore them the first time for public approval in the school election day parade on March 6th.

The Eastern Washington Music Education Association District Contest was held on Saturday March 13th at the Eastern Washington College, Cheney, Washington. The soloists were divided into senior and junior divisions. The Senior division was comprised of those students who are Sophomores, Juniors, or Seniors. The Junior division was made up of ninth grade students or under.

In the Senior division Mary Alice Copp played a saxophone solo accompanied by Margie Scheeler, and Kathleen Williams played a flute solo accompanied by Mary Alice Copp. Mary Alice also played a piano solo.

In the Junior divisions, Charles Hardy played a trombone solo, accompanied by Margie Scheeler. Lee Williams played a clarinet solo accompanied by Margie Scheeler.

All of these soloists appeared on our April 16th concert given in appreciation of the new uniforms which were so generously donated by the public. Rita Plager also played a clarinet solo accompanied by Mary Alice Copp.

These soloists also performed at the Bi-County Festival at Odessa on April 22nd and 23rd where the band competed in Class D. The band also entered the marching contest and marched with the other bands under the lights of the Odessa football field.

On May 1st the Lind Band entered the Eastern Washington Music Education Association District Contest which was held in Spokane and on May 7th we participated in the May Festival at Ritzville.

The band played for the Senior Play, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

CHORUS

In September, tryouts were held for the various vocal music groups which would be practicing and performing during the year 1947-1948. These groups included a Boys' Chorus with 30 members and a Girls' Chorus of 34 members. Mixed chorus was made up by combining the two above groups. A Mixed Ensemble was selected from the Mixed Chorus and a Girls' Triple Trio was selected from the Girls' Chorus.

The first appearance was made by the Mixed Ensemble, under the direction of Miss Krehbiel, at the W. E. A. meeting in Ritzville on Feb. 12. At the Bi-County contest in Odessa on April 22 and 23. The Girls' Triple Trio received a Superior rating and the Mixed Chorus received an Excellent rating.

The Mixed Chorus and Triple Trio made an outstanding appearance at Baccalaureate and Commencement.
